Betty H. Cameron Women's & Children's Hospital

New Hanover Regional Medical Center

Joy - You hear it in the hall when news of a sick child's recovery arrives. You hear it in the voice of doctors when a healing treatment or therapy works. You hear it in the lobby when tiny footsteps – healthy and strong – sprint out the doors full of new life.

These are the joyful moments at the Betty H. Cameron Women's and Children's Hospital at New Hanover Regional Medical Center. They are moments produced by expert pediatric care, the most advanced technology, and a facility that is designed for sick or injured children that is second to none.

But they are also moments produced by simple acts of generosity that care for the spirit and soul. You see, healing a sick child is more than just tests, treatments and updates; it's about meeting the needs of our youngest patients in ways they know and understand – a toy, coloring book or wagon. These are often the wishes of sick or injured children that provide relief, momentary distraction, and healing.

And, now, through contributing toward the purchase of an item in this Wish Book, you can help these wishes come true and contribute to the healing of our most vulnerable patients and their families. Items vary – from small games and art supplies to more expensive games and laptops. You can also contribute to the purchase of specially designed medical supplies and equipment.

Thank you for making a gift to the children and families who come to the Betty H. Cameron Women's & Children's Hospital for care and for making a difference in the life of a child, for in the act of giving is healing and joy!

● Hospital Hospitality House

Hospital Hospitality House is available to families of patients who are far from home and need a place to stay near the hospital. At $35 a night, it's less expensive than hotels and provides a friendly and convenient place to stay, do laundry and rest.

“Never doubted our babies were loved & provided for during their stay; that comfort allowed us to sleep well & commute without excess worry for their well being.”

Neonate

The tiny infants cared for in the Neonatal Intensive Care Unit can spend weeks, or even months, in the hospital. Gifts to help them and their families include the following.

Disposable Cameras

The first days of life are so precious we want to help everyone capture them with photographs. $20

Infant Items

All babies need a lot of stuff! From blankets to clothes to car seats, this fund will help supply those who need the basics to get started with their new baby. $20

Privacy Screens

Screens provide an extra degree of privacy for mom and baby to be with each other. $1,000

“The NICU has a great department and is very family inviting.”

Creamacrit Tester

This tester reads the number of calories in breast milk to ensure baby is getting the right amount to thrive. $1,300

Breast Milk Warmer

Specially-designed and approved for use in hospitals, these warmers can safely warm mom's milk in each infant's room. $1,450

Bili Meter

These meters measure the intensity of phototherapy to help babies affected by jaundice. $3,600

Transcutaneous Bilirubin

This is a special test for jaundice that can be done without drawing a baby's blood. $6,000

Infants

Babies love to watch and listen to the world around them. Gifts of the following items can help stimulate their developing senses.

“All of nurses encouraged us to help care for our baby, which comforted us and made us actually feel like parents since we couldn't take him home yet.”

Infant Items

There are so many things that new parents need for their new bundles of joy. Contributions can help cover the basics. $20

Plaster Molding Kits

Little hands and feet grow so quickly, it's great for Mom and Dad to have an opportunity to capture the tiny size of their baby's fingers and toes right from the beginning. $20

Cause and Effect Toys

Nothing is more fun to a baby than swinging a hand or kicking a foot and discovering something happens as a result. $25

Musical Toys

Soothing or engaging, the right music at the right time can lead to sleepy eyes or delightful smiles. $25

Baby Einstein Products

These toys and CDs are developed to bring out the “little Einstein” in each child. $25

Sound Machines with Lights

A light and music show all at once can stimulate the eyes and ears. $50

“The nurses handled our son as if he were their own &... so well handled that he probably did not want to leave NICU.”

Toddlers

With new motor skills developing quickly, toddlers love things they can ride, move and play.

Leap Frog Products

Leap Frog has a range of toys that help toddlers learn letters and play hand-held games designed just for them. $30

“Saw several physicians and all were very courteous and informative”

Musical Instruments

Making music is something you can enjoy even when stuck in a bed. $30

Ride-on Toys

With legs pushing and wheels rolling, toddlers can zip from room, “vrooming” all the way. $50

Wagons

Getting from place-to-place or getting your stuff from place-to-place is always more fun with a wagon. $75

Preschool

“Wonderful nurses that made my child feel safe.”

Preschoolers are getting more adept at building and expressing themselves, so gifts of toys that let them do that are always welcome.

Art Supplies

Paper, paint, crayons and markers give pediatric patients a chance to get creative and explore colors in new and exciting ways. $20

Leapster Game Systems and Games

Leapster products for preschoolers provide challenging and fun hand-held games. $20 - $50

Blocks and Legos

Building and stacking towers, cars, and castles fuel the imagination and help develop fine motor skills. $30

Transport Wagon with IV Pole

Specially designed teddy bear wagons with sturdy IV poles built in help children move from place-to-place in the hospital in a fun and comforting way. $375

Duck IV Pole

An IV pole with an extra sturdy base and a cheery duck on top is just the thing for a pediatric patient who wants to move around without fear of an IV pole tipping. $600

School Age

Elementary through pre-teenage kids love the opportunity to play increasingly sophisticated games and create art, both by themselves and with their visiting friends and family.

Art Supplies

Pencils, papers, markers and other artistic supplies give patients of all ages a chance to express themselves creatively. $20

Board Games

Board games of all types are great for having fun with visitors. $30

Nintendo Games and Game System

Nintendo games provide more options for older children to play video games in their room. $20 for games, $200 for game system

Lpad 2

Ipads have games, internet connections and more for older children to enjoy while in the hospital. $600

Teen

Teenage patients like to have access to a wide variety of online systems and video games.

DVDs

Movies, rated G and PG, are a big hit in the rooms and for group movie nights. $25

“The nursing care on Pediatrics was excellent. Nurses were caring, responsive, and knowledgeable.”

Video Games

Nintendo, Xbox 360, PS3 and Wii games and game systems are always in demand. $40-$200

Lpad 2

Ipads have games, internet connections and more for teens to enjoy while in the hospital. $600

“Awesome staff”

Popcorn Machine and Cart

Teen patients love movie nights in the unit and a popcorn machine and cart would make them that much more fun. $600

Laptop Computer

Laptops help connect teens with the internet, email and friends while in the hospital. They can even help keep current with homework assignments while out of school. $1,200
